

iaedp™ Approved Supervisors

Julie Holland, MHS CEDS

iaedp™ Approved Supervisor

iaedp™ Certification Director

Professionals pursuing the CEDS or CEDRD designation are required to be supervised by iaedp™ Approved Supervisors, unless an exception has been granted (see guidelines for exception below). An approved supervisor is defined as a professional who is not one's primary personal therapist; has a minimum of five (5) years experience treating persons with eating disorders; no fewer than 6,000 hours of approved work experience in the treatment and diagnosis of eating disorders; holds an accredited masters degree or higher in the health or behavioral science fields; is licensed by his/her state licensing board; holds a CEDS, CEDRD or Equivalency Certification.

Becoming an iaedp Approved Supervisor

Due to an increased demand for iaedp™ Approved Supervisors, all CEDS and CEDRD professionals are encouraged to apply for iaedp™ Approved Supervisor status without the previously required two year waiting period. If you believe you meet the criteria for iaedp™ Approved Supervisor and are interested in providing supervision for professionals seeking certification, application forms can be downloaded at www.iaedp.com.

- Application Fee $ 125
- Renewable every two years ($125/renewal fee)

CEDS and CEDRD Supervision

iaedp™ has designed its certification program to insure its certified members are able to demonstrate expertise through a range of professional activities, achievements, supervised activities and testing. Requirements for supervision are designed to be in line with these competencies. It is iaedp™'s view that those who are providing supervision to Certification candidates must confirm their own extensive experience and training in the field of eating disorders. The Certification Committee reviews the qualifications of all supervisors who are not iaedp™ Approved Supervisors providing supervision to CEDS/CEDRD candidates. To apply for this exception, please email your request to iaedpmembers@earthlink.net.

For more information regarding iaedp™ Approved Supervisors, please contact Julie Holland, MHS, CEDS, Certification Director, at iaedpmembers@earthlink.net.